2nd Conference of Marketing Scholars and Practitioners: Emerging Trends, Opportunities and Challenges

The institute organized Conference of Marketing Scholars and Practitioners (CMSP-2013) on 10 May 2013. The conference theme revolved around Emerging Trends, Opportunities and Challenges. Prof. Alok Saklani, Director, ASM, welcomed the delegates and guests. Prof. Ashok Ogra, Director, Apeejay Institute of Mass Communication, introduced the theme and set the perspective for discussion in the technical sessions.

Mr. Praphul Misra, CEO NetCarrots Loyalty Services, delivered keynote address. Mr Mishra emphasized importance of the strong linkages between scholars and practitioners. Dr Mukesh Chaturvedi, Professor, BIMTECH, talked about how a marketer should have a knack for spotting trends and be able to convert those into opportunities while delivering the plenary address.

The inaugural function was followed by two technical sessions in which marketing scholars and practitioners exchanged and discussed their valuable insights. Dr Suresh K Bedi, Dean, ASM proposed a vote of thanks. The conference brought together more than forty five marketing professionals, scholars and students from various parts of India in a collaborative environment to present and discuss issues relating to Marketing. The event concluded on a positive note along with bringing out some important solutions to the problems of the contemporary marketing practices. The conference was facilitated by Dr Etinder Pal Singh, Dr Manisha Bachheti and Ms Preeti Suryavanshi.

Conference on HR Challenges in Changing Global Scenario

The institute organized a Conference on HR Challenges in Changing Global Scenario on 17 May 2013. This interdisciplinary forum was attended by industry leaders, academics and research scholars from various streams. The speakers shared their recent researches on employee engagement, employer branding, knowledge management, capacity building issues, and sustainable HR practices.

Prof Ashok Ogra, Director, Apeejay Institute of Mass Communication, welcomed the delegates and guests. Prof Ogra observed that unpredictability often throws a lot of challenges which in turn create opportunities for innovation and creative problem solving. Globalization, environmental concerns and technological advancements have made employment issues all the more challenging, he added. Prof Ogra urged the HR professionals and academics to explore opportunities in uncertain times.

Dr Suresh K Bedi, Dean, Apeejay School of Management, provided a holistic overview of HR challenges in globalized world in his opening remarks. DrBedi emphasized the need for an interdisciplinary approach to study HR issues in contemporary organizations.

Mr Vijay Rai, President and CEO, PowerCon Knowledge Services, urged the scholarly community to produce ‘actionable knowledge’ which can benefit the industry, practicing managers as well as the students while delivering inaugural address at the conference. He emphasized the need for integration of theory and practice so that HR as an academic discipline remains relevant for long time.

Mr Pronoy Dutt, Director, Research & Consultancy, Umbrio Consulting, shared his views on augmenting employee engagement and developing leadership across all levels in organizations while delivering key-note address at the conference. Mr Dutt emphasized the need for understanding the employees and designing customised reward and compensation programmes to ensure superior performance and higher degree of discretionary efforts on the part of the employees towards accomplishing organizational mission and strategic goals.

Dr Srirang Jha, Coordinator, HR Area, Apeejay School of Management, proposed a vote of thanks to all the delegates and speakers. Inaugural session was followed by two technical sessions. Dr Suresh K Bedi, Prof Amit Sareen, Prof Kamal Kishore and Prof Akshey Kumar chaired the technical sessions. The conference was facilitated by Dr Srirang Jha, Dr Shweta Jha, MsManupriya Bali and Ms IshitaAdhikari.
