Seminar on Women in Management

ASM organized a Seminar on Women in Management on 8th March 2017. Dr Alok Saklani, Director, ASM, welcomed the guests. He observed that every human being has some feminine and some masculine elements, and that makes a complete person. Feminine facets help the society become more humane.

Lt. Cdr. Radha Singh from Indian Navy talked about issues and challenges faced by female officers in leadership roles in the context of defence forces. She maintained that female officers move ahead on merit and not as a matter of favor or entitlement due to a positive ecosystem in defence forces conducive for them. Ms Dolly Bhasin, Managing Director, SPH Consultants, spoke on future of work and how it would be great for female managers and workers. Ms Rhythm Dhingra, Asst. Vice President, Yes Bank, observed that female role models are less in numbers but more impactful. She said that most of the role models are in the banking sector and that they should occupy other spheres as well.

Dr Shweta Jha, seminar convener, proposed a vote of thanks. Alokita Verma, Sanyukta Chowdhary, Ashima Jaswal and Aarushi Kapoor coordinated the event.
